DETAILED ACTION

Claims 20-24 are presented for consideration on the merits.

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on February 23, 2009, has been entered.

Response to Amendment

The amendment filed March 23, 2009 and extension of time, and arguments therewith have been received and entered. The arguments have been deemed persuasive. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 20-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 20-24 are rendered vague and indefinite for the recitation of "named Thrombinase" because the language is redundant and wordy. It is suggested to delete "thrombolytic enzyme, named" because the suffix "ase" indicates Thrombinase is an enzyme without repetition. Also "the filtrate of cells" lacks antecedent basis in step (i). Further, "the cell supernatant" lacks antecedent basis in step (iii). Also, "the retentate" lacks antecedent basis in step (iv). Also what is being subjected to reconstituting and decolorizing in steps (vii) and (viii), respectively? These steps are indefinite. In addition, step (ix) is indefinite because it is unclear what is being subjected to purifying, per se? Further, "the fraction" lacks antecedent basis.

Claims 21-23 are unclear and indefinite because it is uncertain which step these processes are being carried out in for claim 20, is the buffer only used in step (vii), for example? The metes and bounds of the claims can not be determined.

Claim 24 provides for the use of thrombinase, but, since the claim does not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced.

Claim 24 is also rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 20-24 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-9 of copending Application No. 11/907,512. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the scope of the claimed subject matter is the only difference between the two copending applications.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claims are drawn to a process for preparation of thrombolytic enzyme and thrombinase.

Copending claims are drawn to a process for preparation of thrombolytic enzyme and thrombinase.

The only difference between the two copending application claims is scope and one of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated by the claims of the compending case to provide for the instant claims because each require the same process steps and product but only differ in the scope of the overall claimed subject matter. The claims are rendered prima facie obvious over the compending claims.

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claim 24 is provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 1 and 9 of compending Application No. 11/907,512. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

The claims are so similarly worded that they are considered to be the same claims and identical in subject matter, there being no difference in scope but having the same scope.

No claims are allowed.
